

Station: Cloud

You are a tiny drop of water floating high in the sky. Droplets gather together to make a cloud. When the weather gets cold, it's time for your next adventure!

Float around the room like a cloud
Interlock fingers and wiggle them to show
you're a cloud!

Station: Snow

The air is cold, and you freeze into a snowflake. You gently fall onto a glacier in Beringia.

Slowly spin and float to the floor like a snowflake!

Station: Glacier

You are frozen inside a huge glacier where you will stay for many years! When the weather gets warmer, you will melt again.

This photo is actually from a Yukon glacier!

Freeze like an ice statue!
VERY slowly pretend to melt!

INTERPRETIVE CENTRE

Station: River

You have melted and become liquid water!
You will now cross Beringia, helping animals
and plants survive along the way.

Walk in a wavy line
Move arms like flowing water

Station: Plant

A plant slurps you up through its roots!
You are an important part in the plant growing strong and healthy.

Crouch down and slowly stretch upwards like a growing plant!

Station: Animal

A caribou eats you! Water helps animals stay healthy and energized. After the caribou uses you, you leave the caribou. The adventure isn't over yet!

Pretend to walk like a caribou
Eat some pretend plants!

Station: Sun

The sun heats you up, changing you into water vapour! You float back into the sky. Soon you'll become a cloud, continuing your journey!

Slowly rise onto tiptoes and wave arms upwards as you float into the sky!
